A set of two transcriptions based on Vivaldi's Concerto No.9 in D major for solo violin and strings, RV 230, and Bach's harpsichord transcription of it, BWV 972: 1) two guitars and a string quartet, 2) guitar duo. RV 230/BWV 972 has been transcribed to many instrumental settings; however, a version for two guitars and a string quartet is rare, and it adds a new dimension to guitar transcriptions of this work. With the use of this instrumentation, we are able to keep Bach's ideas within the concerto grosso format. That is to say, Bach's additions in his transcription can be realized in a concerto setting with guitar soloists and a string quartet, such that there is an exchange of instrumentation between the tutti and solo passages. Although many guitarists have played lute concertos, such as Vivaldi's Lute Concerto in D major, RV 93, a performance of a concerto grosso piece is not common. The present transcriptions further expand the guitar repertoire of the Baroque concerto grosso form, and they make an important contribution to showing the breadth of the guitar repertoire. "Congratulations to Ming-Jui Liu with this important contribution to the duo guitar concerto repertoire. This little known transcription by Bach of a concerto by Vivaldi fits the duo guitar ensemble perfectly. Ming-Jui Liu's transcription sounds natural and is a good fit with a Baroque orchestra." - Jerry Willard, Guitar Professor at Stony Brook University "This transcription of the Concerto in D for 2 guitars and string quartet by Vivaldi/Bach is a welcome addition to the guitar duet repertoire. Rarely do we guitarists get to perform a masterwork such as this in an ensemble setting. The transcription is a fine balance of careful scholarship and artistic imagination. Bravo Ming Jui-Liu!" - Kevin Gallagher, World Renown Guitarist

For guitar, strings, and basso continuo. One of the most popular of the Vivaldi concertos. The lovely slow movement has been widely recorded. In this new realization, Mario Abril has arranged the piece to be playable in several different settings: original, string quartet, full ensemble, guitar duo, guitar, and continuo.

This series takes a project-based approach to performing and composing, listening and appraising. The student book contains background information and illustrations to support the projects; scores for performing and listening and appraising work; and listening questions and tasks for homework. Classical Guitarists fills a void in the special world of the classical guitar. Although this realm is inhabited by world-class musicians, much of what they think and feel has never been captured in print. The interviewees, including Julian Bream, John Williams, Sharon Isbin, Eliot Fisk, David Starobin and David Tanenbaum are a select group at the peak of their prowess who speak openly and thoughtfully about their opportunities, accomplishments, and lessons learned. Each has made important contributions from establishing significant academic programs to broadening the audience for the classical guitar. The author shares his reviews of their most important recordings and New York City concerts during the 1990s, as well as discographies of their recordings. There are also interviews with Harold Shaw, the most prominent artist manager in the history of the classical guitar and several of today's most important composers for the guitar, including Pulitzer Prize winners George Crumb and Aaron Jay Kernis. An introductory chapter provides an historical perspective on classical guitar and a postscript explains how to create a basic repertoire of recordings.

In compiling this landmark sourcebook, Finnish guitarists Hannu Annala and Heiki Matlik consulted more than 70 music texts as well as dozens of composer resumes acquired from the musical information centers of several countries. During the writing process, which lasted for more than three years, they received additional information from many modern composers, including Leo Brouwer and Reginald Smith Brindle among others. In addition, several internationally renowned performing guitarists provided valuable information; these include Magnus Andersson (Sweden), Remi Boucher (Canada), Margarita Escarpa (Spain), Aleksander Frauchi (Russia) and David Tanenbaum (USA) among others. The authors' aim was to write a well-structured book with separate chapters for each instrument, such as the Renaissance and Baroque guitar, the Renaissance and Baroque lute, the vihuela, etc. This unique structure enables the reader to easily discover which composers wrote for a certain instrument during any given period. In addition to the composers one would expect to find in such a comprehensive listing, the book documents several historical and modern composers for whom little previous information has been available. The book's list of more than 400 guitar and lute concertos dating from the Baroque era to the present day is a totally unprecedented. Short introductions regarding guitar and lute-like instruments as well as their basic histories are provided at the beginning of the book. The authors hope that the Handbook of Guitar and Lute Composers will serve as a practical guide for both amateurs and professionals, encouraging further study of the history of these instruments and expanding the repertoire heard on today's concert stage.

This is a transcription for four guitar of Antonio Vivaldi's Concerto in D major from the Sonata for Lute, Strings, and Continuo RV93.

Ronaldo Cadeu's Five Pieces for Solo Flute, Op. 9, no. 7 is a great option for the performer who wants to include some contemporary music in his / her repertoire. Based on Igor Stravinsky's Three Pieces for Solo Clarinet, the present piece explores many different compositional techniques without losing track of sense, form and beauty. The third piece of this set, Fantasy World, includes a poem also written by Mr. Cadeu which has to be spoken by the performer during the performance.

Ronaldo Cadeu's Four Pieces for Solo Bassoon, Op. 9, no. 5a is a great option for the performer who wants to include some contemporary music in his / her repertoire. Based on Igor Stravinsky's Three Pieces for Solo Clarinet the present piece explores many different compositional techniques like quartal harmony, twelve-tone, metric modulation and free atonality, without losing track of sense, form and beauty.
